

5.4 Output panel

The Output panel in the RL page contains the SysInfo and UserInfo tabs.

The SysInfo tab displays the system information output; the UserInfo tab displays the content output by the print instruction.

- After the program execution is finished, you can check for the execution information in the tabs.
- Click  (Pin) to fix the tabs in space or automatically collapse the tabs.

