

3.2 Create a project

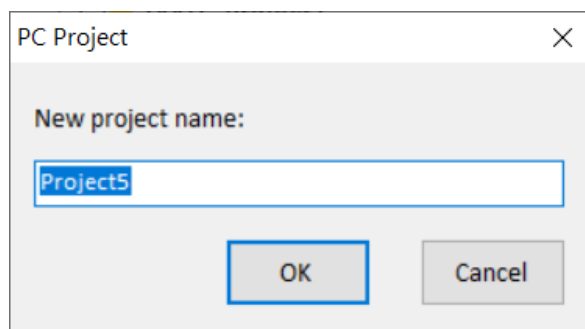

Create a new project, and the project is stored in the corresponding folder; you can only create projects on the PC. Follow these steps.

1. Right-click the [DROEsolution] folder in the PC project list, and then click Add New RL Project.

2. Specify a project name, and then click OK.

Note: only English letters and numbers can be used for naming the project; symbols and spaces are not allowed. The maximum length of the project name is 26 characters.

3. After the project is created, a folder with the specified project name is added to the PC project list, containing the files LPT.bin and main.lua.
