

3.4 Close a project

After you have finished executing or editing a project, click the  button of the main.lua tab to close the project.

3

When the project is edited but not saved, an asterisk (*) is shown after the filename main.lua. If you close the project at this time, a popup window appears to ask if you want to save the project.

